Some don't even bring their wallets when they go shopping. In Taiwan, people can use apps to pay in almost every convenience store and some department stores.

Some passengers may pay taxi drivers with an app because they can often get a discount. Sadly, they cannot pay with an app when they take most buses in Taiwan. People can also send money to friends through apps. However, some people worry that these apps are not safe. They are afraid that others may get their information. In fact, these apps are safe. People have to set a password or record their fingerprints in the apps. Without their passwords or fingerprints, no one can get their information even if their smartphones are lost. However, people should still remember to use these apps carefully. Better safe than sorry.

Have you ever been to a Thai restaurant in Taiwan? If you have, you must have tried "moon shrimp cake." It's a delicious dish. Many people enjoy this dish when they go to a Thai restaurant. However, you may not know that it is actually not traditional Thai food. In fact, a chef in Taiwan first made it. He cut shrimp into small pieces and put them between spring roll wrappers. Then, he fried them. Next, he made a kind of sauce, and it tasted sweet and a little spicy. Because of the taste, many people think this dish is Thai food. The name comes from its shape. Have you ever been “hangry”? What does the word “hangry” mean? When you haven't eaten anything for a while, your mood may change. If you shout at your family or friends because you are in such a situation, it means that you are “hangry.” As you may notice, the word “hangry” comes from two words: hungry and angry. It was born in the early 20th century. Hungry people get angry easily. That's why this word was created.

Another interesting word is “GOAT.” We can say “BTS is the GOAT.” Does it mean that this famous South Korean boy band has anything to do with the cute animal? Of course not. The word “GOAT” comes from the phrase “Greatest of All Time.” We take the first letter of each word in the phrase to form a new word.

Do your friends know the two special English words? If not, try to explain the meanings to them.

When I was about to turn right, an old man on a bicycle suddenly appeared in front of me. Luckily, I didn't hit the old man, but the next second, I hit a tree. The old man called an ambulance and sent me to the hospital. I broke my back and left arm, and I must stay in the hospital for five days. I am texting you late because now I can only type with one hand. All I can do for the rest of the summer vacation is stay home and watch TV. I am still alive. Don't worry about me. Karen's Diary

Dec. 12, Sat.

Weather: ☀

Oh, no! I can't believe that I did it again. I went to XYZ Store this afternoon to buy a present for Tom. It's his 18th birthday next Friday. As his only sister, I want to celebrate this special day with his favorite item. He likes action figures most, so I decided to buy a limited-edition Luffy as his present. I have saved most of my pocket money for months.

When I arrived at the store, there was only one Luffy on the shelf. The price tag showed it cost NT$18,000. I put it into my basket and headed for the counter. At that moment, a clerk walked toward me and said, "Hi, we are having a sale. There is a buy-two-get-one-free sale this weekend. If you buy two figures, you can get one more for free. Would you like to get another two?" That's why I feel bad about myself now. Actually, I just need one action figure. I should break this bad habit as soon as possible.
